Vikram Yadav new DGCA chief; Kidwai's turbulent tenure ends

DEEPAK PATEL
New Delhi, 31 March

The Centre on Tuesday appointed Vir Vikram Yadav as new Director General of Civil Aviation, replacing Faiz Ahmed Kidwai, who has been transferred as additional secretary in the Department of Personnel and Training.

Kidwai's tenure — since January 2025 — marked a turbulent period for India's aviation regulator, the Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA), owing to a sequence of high-impact aviation crises, regulatory confrontations, and institutional scrutiny.

Events from mid-2025 to early 2026 exposed deeper systemic concerns for India's aviation safety architecture. The first major shock came when the Air India Flight 171 crash on June 12, 2025. The Boeing 787-8, on its journey from Ahmedabad to London, crashed shortly after take-off, killing around 260 people.

The incident triggered a multi-agency probe and a detailed safety audit of Air India by the DGCA in July 2025.

Faiz Ahmed Kidwai (left) has been transferred to DoPT as additional secretary. Vir Vikram Yadav, who was additional secretary in the environment ministry, is now at the helm of the Directorate General of Civil Aviation which flagged nearly 100 safety lapses. These include serious violations related to training, cabin crew deployment, and breaches of flight duty time limitations (FDLT).

Through the remaining 2025, the DGCA was simultaneously engaged in a prolonged and contentious overhaul of the FDLT norms.

The move to look into pilot duty and rest rules in the interest of safety met with strong resistance from airlines, which had not ramped up pilot hiring in line with the stricter FDLT requirements, turning the issue into a sector-wide standoff.

The repeated delays and consultations highlighted the difficulty of enforcing safety reforms without disrupting airline operations. The tensions around FDLT and pilots' availability culminated in a protracted and contentious overhauling of the FDLT norms.

The move to look into pilot duty and rest rules in the interest of safety met with strong resistance from airlines, which had not ramped up pilot hiring in line with the stricter FDLT requirements, facing acute crew shortages leading to the cancellation of nearly 4,500 flights over about 10 days.

The DGCA stepped in with temporary FDLT relaxations, fare caps, and close monitoring to stabilise operations amid one of the largest-ever operational disruptions in Indian aviation.

The pressure extended to January 28 this year when a high-profile tragedy killed Maharashtra Deputy Chief Minister Ajit Pawar, along with four others. The accident took place after the chartered Learjet 45 plane crashed during a landing attempt at Baramati.

The aircraft, flying from Mumbai, went down just short of the runway amid poor visibility, with no survivors.

The political significance of the crash, involving one of the state's most powerful leaders, brought unprecedented attention to safety gaps in non-scheduled aviation operations, especially at smaller airfields with limited infrastructure. This was followed by an air ambulance crash in Chattrra, Jharkhand, on February 23, further underscoring risks in emerging markets.

It prompted the DGCA to tighten oversight of non-scheduled operations, including grounding aircraft and flagging operational and airworthiness concerns. Against this backdrop, a Parliamentary Standing Committee report tabled on March 25 brought together these incidents to argue that India's aviation safety challenges are systemic rather than episodic.

The panel cited the June 2025 Ahmedabad crash, the January 2026 Baramati tragedy, the February 2026 Chattrra air ambulance crash, and the December 2025 mass cancellations as evidence of "systemic fragilities." It recommended the creation of an independent high-level committee to conduct a root-cause analysis within 90 days.

The report also raised structural concerns within the regulator, noting that the DGCA was operating with 843 personnel against a sanctioned strength of 1,620. This is a vacancy rate of 48.3 percent.

Impossible to quantify war impact on airlines; airfares on rise: IATA

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, 31 March

With a sharp rise in fuel costs as well as tight capacity and thin margins for airlines, airfares are already rising in the wake of the West Asia war, global airlines' grouping International Air Transport Association (IATA) said on Tuesday.

The IATA represents around 350 airlines, including Air India, Air India Express, IndiGo, and SpiceJet.

On Tuesday, the grouping released the data for global passenger demand in February 2026 and said total demand in terms of revenue passenger kilometres (RPK) rose 6.1 per cent last month compared to the year-ago period.

Total capacity, measured in available seat kilometres (ASK), increased 5.6 per cent year-on-year, while the passenger load factor stood at 81.4 per cent, the highest February figure on record, it said in a release.

IATA Director General Willie Walsh said with an RPK expansion of 6.1 per cent, February was a strong month, showing that the fundamentals for demand growth were in place for a positive year.

"However, without knowing the length and intensity of the war in the Middle East, it is impossible to quantify the full impact that it will have on airline prospects. But some things are already clear. Fuel costs have risen sharply. With tight capacity and thin margins, airfares are already rising," he said.

According to him, capacity deployment is also adjusting, particularly for traffic to, from, or through West Asia, or in areas where fuel supply is an issue.

"Capacity growth scheduled for March, for example, has eased to 3.3 per cent from earlier predictions of more than 5 per cent," Walsh noted.

According to IATA, in India, domestic RPK increased 0.6 per cent year-on-year in February compared to 3.5 per cent in January. IATA said this partly reflects a higher base of comparison, given the exceptionally strong demand recorded in February 2025.

India AI Mission startup Gnani raises $10 mn

ANI K D AS
Bengaluru, 31 March

Gnani.AI, which is part of the India AI Mission, has raised $10 million as part of a Series-B funding round from Avishkaar Capital and existing investor InFo Edge Ventures.

The company will use the funds to build agentic AI capabilities, multi-lingual and industry solutions, and strengthen its engineering and product teams to capture a share of the global enterprise voice AI market.

"Our mission has always been to make customer engagement more human, more secure, and more scalable through voice-first AI. Partnering with Avishkaar Capital is a powerful validation of that vision. Their investment will help us deepen our generative AI capabilities and accelerate our global expansion," said Gnani's cofounders Ganesha Gopalan and Anamika Nagarajan in a statement.

The funding comes a little over a month after the company launched its voice foundation model at the India AI Impact Summit in New Delhi in February. The model has 5 billion parameters for voice-to-voice, which will be expanded to the flagship 14-billion-parameter model and later to 70 billion parameters, Gopalan added.

The company is one of the startups selected for the Mission to launch core AI models for the country.

Manusum plans ₹200 cr fundraise, 2028 IPO

ANEKA CHATTERJEE
Bengaluru, 31 March

Bengaluru-based Manusum Senior Living plans to raise close to ₹150-200 crore in growth capital and is targeting an initial public offering (IPO) around 2028, betting on India's rapidly expanding senior housing market, said cofounder Anantharam Varayur.

The funding will be used towards expanding its managed portfolio from about 2,500 units currently to 5,000 units by 2026-2027 (FY27), and scale up to 10,000 units by 2028. The company considers this scaled essential before approaching capital markets.

"We are working with a real-estate consultant firm on the fundraising. The next phase of growth will be driven by expansion into multiple cities and new product formats," Varayur told Business Standard.

Manusum noted that the expansion includes new "active senior living" project, which is being rolled out at Gujarat International Finance Tec-City (GIFT City), Ahmedabad. The Atharva Sibon project, comprising 248 units, targets professional expats, young years and who are approaching retirement but wish to remain professionally engaged. The company is positioning itself as a platform for senior citizens in GIFT City's financial and technology ecosystem, allowing residents to transition into advisory or consulting roles. "Retirement today does not mean stopping work. Many professionals want flexible engagement for 2-48 units, targets professional expats, young years and who are approaching retirement secure lifestyle," Varayur said.

Bombay HC halts GST action on 18% hotel restaurant levy

MONIKA YADAV
New Delhi, 31 March

The Aurangabad Bench of the Bombay High Court (HC) has extended interim protection to a hospitality company in a key goods and services tax (GST) dispute challenging the 18% hotel and restaurant levies.

In its order dated March 24, the division Bench declined to vacate the earlier interim relief and instead stayed the operation of the show-cause notice issued under Section 74 of the Central GST Act, pending further consideration of the writ petition. The court also directed the tax authorities to file their reply, with the matter listed for further hearing in June.

The dispute arises from a demand exceeding ₹4 crore covering 2019-20 to 2024-25, where the department sought to proceed with adjudication before the statutory limitation deadline of March 31. The Union argued that continuing interim protection would frustrate the adjudication process and impact revenue collection.

However, the court observed that the petitioner had already complied with early directions by furnishing a bank guarantee of ₹40 lakh and found it appropriate, at this stage, to maintain the status quo by staying the show-cause notice until further orders.

The underlying writ petition challenges the GST rate structure that taxes restaurant and services at 18 per cent when declared within hotels charging room tariffs above ₹7,500 per night, compared with 12 per cent for standalone restaurants.

Appearing for the petitioner, Abhishek A Rastogi, founder of Rastogi Chambers, advanced a constitutional and structural challenge to this framework.

He argued that the rate mechanism artificially limits the taxability of a restaurant service, an unrelatable factor — the declared room tariff of the hotel — rather than the intrinsic nature of the supply.

According to him, such classification lacks a rational nexus and results in excessive and untimely tax payments. Rastogi further submitted that the current regime produces anomalous outcomes.
